TO THE
Gentlemen, Clergy, Freemen and Freeholders
OF THE
CITY AND COUNTY OF NORWICH.

HAVING had the honor to represent you in Parliament for the last Ten Years, allow me to acknowledge, with a grateful heart, the sense I entertain of so distinguished a mark of your preference; and flattering myself with the pleasing hopes of your approbation of my past conduct, I again anxiously solicit your support and suffrages at the approaching Election; when, should I be so happy as to be honored with that confidence, which it has ever been the greatest pride of my life to obtain, the most strenuous exertions shall be made on my part for the protection of the Commercial Interests, and for the continuance of the Prosperity of the ancient and respectable City of Norwich.

I am, Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens,
With the sincerest regard and respect,
Your devoted and faithful Servant,

HENRY HOBART.

LONDON, MAY 19, 1796.

TO THE
Gentlemen, Clergy, Freemen and Freeholders
OF THE
CITY AND COUNTY OF NORWICH.

A Dissolution of Parliament being at every moment expected, I again solicit the honor of being chosen your Representative, and flatter myself, that as I have in no respect deviated from those principles that first recommended me to your notice, I may hope for a continuance of the same cordial and generous support that I have experienced on so many former occasions.

The

The strange circumstances, indeed, of the times, have made a new division of political parties, and deprived me of the support of many of those whom I had formerly the happiness to count among my most zealous and steady Friends—from those who look with complacency to the final establishment of the French system in France, and who, conformably to that sentiment, can hardly fail to wish for the introduction of some portion of it here, I am conscious, that I can have no claim to favor; to them I must be for ever opposed, but I am sure, that such is not the prevailing sentiment in the City of Norwich; and I trust therefore, that I shall not stand worse in the opinion of my Constituents at large, for having disclaimed long since every other rule of party connections than that of being for or against the principles introduced into the world at the fatal period above referred to. Neither my attachment to the Constitution, nor zeal for the general welfare and honor of the country, nor regard and attention to the interests of this city, have, as far as I know, been called in question; I am not aware even of any political opinion at present subsisting on which I have the misfortune to differ from the sentiments of the general body of my Constituents: I will never allow myself therefore to suppose, that against the attacks of those, who have no objection to me, but from their favoring more or less the new principles derived to us from France, I shall not find an ample shield in the integrity, the loyalty, the good sense of the city of Norwich.

Under this persuasion, allow me to solicit earnestly the honor of again becoming your Representative, with an assurance, that should I be honored with your choice, you shall never find me wanting in those sentiments and principles of which you have formerly been willing to think so favorably, and which no act, I trust, of my political life, has been calculated to call in question.

I have the honor to be, with great respect,
Gentlemen, your most obedient,
And most faithful humble Servant,

W. WINDHAM.

TO THE
Gentlemen, Clergy, Freemen and Freeholders
OF THE
CITY AND COUNTY OF NORWICH.

GENTLEMEN,
TO be thus distinguished—thus—by such numerous, free and unbiassed suffrages, re-elected one of your Representatives in Parliament, excites beyond the powers of language, my heartfelt gratitude and acknowledgments.

I feel this event, as the proudest attribute of my life, as the brightest ornament to my character; such honourable testimony of your confidence and approbation, shall ever regulate my endeavours to deserve the continuance of your good opinion, by the application of my most zealous exertions for the welfare of our country and commerce, and for the support of our admirable form of Government, consisting of King, Lords and Commons. The local interests of my constituents will ever command my ready and chearful attention, which shall be directed to promote the prosperity of Norwich, and its useful staple manufactures. Being, with truth, respect and attachment,

Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens,

Your faithful, obliged and devoted Servant,

HENRY HOBART.

NORWICH, MAY 25, 1796.

TO THE
Gentlemen, Clergy, Freemen and Freeholders
OF THE
CITY AND COUNTY OF NORWICH.

GENTLEMEN,
IF my first emotion is that of grateful acknowledgment for the support which I have received, another feeling equally powerful is that of congratulation to the city at large, on the event of a contest, not more connected with its own domestic tranquillity than it is important to the general interests of the community.

We cannot dissemble from ourselves, that whatever shades of opinion there may be among individuals, the general question has been the same with us, as that which is dividing mankind at this moment in every country in Europe; nor is it less evident that this question was brought to issue amongst us, in circumstances peculiarly unfavorable to the side which has happily prevailed.

The artifices of persons long incessantly working to the same object, had not failed to profit by a circumstance so fortunate for their purposes, as the late high price of Corn; and had infused an opinion too extravagant, one should have thought, to have been received even by the most illiterate, that being possessed of a place in his Majesty's Executive Government, I held, as it were, in my hands the Keys of Plenty and Scarcity, and by an unaccountable perversion of sentiment, was disposed to employ this power in prolonging the distresses and aggravating the sufferings of the Poor of the city of Norwich; senseless as such an idea was, you have been witnesses of the effect which it produced: on the other hand, the Gentleman opposed to me, by his residence here and situation in life, by his numerous private friends and connections, and by the influence of a family long established and respected in this city, could not fail to draw to himself an extensive and powerful support, at whatever time and under whatever circumstances he should have thought proper to come forward.

That the contest, therefore, has ended as it has done, is no small proof of the judgment of the city of Norwich on the principles prevailing on either side, and affords a triumphant answer to any who shall impute hereafter to its inhabitants, sentiments hostile to the Constitution of this realm, and to the principles and maxims handed down to us from our ancestors.

With respect to myself, Gentlemen, I will not again trouble you with assurances which I have so often had occasion to repeat, and which I can say with confidence, I have never at any moment departed from.

The issue of this contest, so far from exciting an apprehension in me that I have lost any part of your good opinion, has served only to afford fresh proofs of its continuance, and while it attaches me more and more to the interests of the city of Norwich, enhances every sentiment of respect and gratitude, with which

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your most faithful and most obedient

Humble Servant,

W. WINDHAM.

NORWICH, MAY 27, 1796.

TO THE
Worthy and Independent Electors

OF THE
CITY OF NORWICH.

FELLOW-CITIZENS,

HAVING just heard of the noble struggle you have made to shew your disapprobation of the War, and ruinous system of the present Administration, by placing ME at your late Election in opposition to Mr. WINDHAM, Secretary at War, I take the earliest opportunity (that the distance of near three hundred miles allows me) to assure you, that if your endeavours had succeeded, I would faithfully have discharged my duty in the important and honorable trust you would have reposed in ME.

Though I am fully sensible, that to be the Representative of such a large body of Electors as belong to the city of Norwich, when elected by them, unsolicited by the Candidate, and without BRIBERY and CORRUPTION, is one of the most honorable situations to which an Englishman can be called; yet my domestic comfort and engagements in business would not have allowed me to consent to have been put in Nomination, if I had not considered it as my indispensable Duty to give an opportunity to the FREE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS of my native City to shew their decided opinion at this alarming crisis.

I thank you for this honorable testimony to my Character and Conduct, and shall ever with gratitude and pleasure remember, that amongst the resident Electors of the City of Norwich I had a very considerable majority.

I am,

17 30 68
With great respect, and sincere attachment,

Your much obliged Friend,

BARTLETT GURNEY.

NORTH-SHIELDS, NORTHUMBERLAND,

MAY 29, 1796.

TO THE
Worthy and Independent Electors

OF THE
CITY OF NORWICH.

FELLOW-CITIZENS,

HAVING just heard of the noble struggle you have made to shew your disapprobation of the War, and ruinous system of the present Administration, by placing ME at your late Election in opposition to Mr. WINDHAM, Secretary at War, I take the earliest opportunity (that the distance of near three hundred miles allows me) to assure you, that if your endeavours had succeeded, I would faithfully have discharged my duty in the important and honorable trust you would have reposed in ME.

Though I am fully sensible, that to be the Representative of such a large body of Electors as belong to the city of Norwich, when elected by them, unsolicited by the Candidate, and without BRIBERY and CORRUPTION, is one of the most honorable situations to which an Englishman can be called; yet my domestic comfort and engagements in business would not have allowed me to consent to have been put in Nomination, if I had not considered it as my indispensable Duty to give an opportunity to the FREE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS of my native City to shew their decided opinion at this alarming crisis.

I thank you for this honorable testimony to my Character and Conduct, and shall ever with gratitude and pleasure remember, that amongst the resident Electors of the City of Norwich I had a very considerable majority.

I am,

With great respect, and sincere attachment,

Your much obliged Friend,

BARTLETT GURNEY.

NORTH-SHIELDS, NORTHUMBERLAND.

MAY 29. 1796.
